PREFACE

In 1999, the first comprehensive French syllabus for High School was produced since the subject was introduced in Zambia before Independence. This is a revised copy of the 1999 syllabus. Before this syllabus was developed in 1999, the Zambia Association of French Teachers (ZAFT) produced a number of booklets intended to help the teacher in day to day performance of his/her duties. These materials on grammar and exercises were quite popular and much used at High School, but they were not a guide in the real sense of the syllabus, hence the need to have had this copy now.

This is the second ever French syllabus for the High School in Zambia. It has been produced to address the concerns of all those that have contributed in whatever capacity to the teaching of French and more especially the teachers. It is the product of the combined efforts of pedagogues drawn from the University of Zambia, Nkrumah University College, the Examinations Council of Zambia, the Curriculum Development Centre, the Standards Officers and the classroom teachers. It is the result of a long history in the methodology of French beginning from the Grammar-Translation Approach, the Centre of Interest Approach, the Situational Approach to the NOTIONSal/Functional Approach. The views of all stakeholders to the Zambia Education Curriculum Framework, regarding French at High School have been included in this syllabus so as to continue searching for quality education delivery.

The High School French syllabus is based on the NOTIONSal/Functional Approach and lays emphasis on the communicative function (both oral and written) of the language. This syllabus is quite unique in that:

- It reflects the philosophy of the country as stipulated in the National Policy on Education “Educating Our Future” and the Zambia Education Curriculum Framework for 2011 in the sense that it highlights life skills and problem solving concepts.
- The knowledge, skills, values and positive attitudes have been indicated to help the teachers get more focused on the holistic approach of moulding the learners.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The development of the French High School syllabus has become a reality at long last as a result of efforts and dedication of many people and we wish to thank them all. We are grateful to the government for the allocation of funds which enabled the existence of the senior syllabus in French. We also extend our thanks to all government departments and institutions of learning who have made valuable contributions to the development of the senior syllabus for French.

INTRODUCTION

To our knowledge, this is the first syllabus that has ever been produced for teaching and learning of French at High School level in Zambia.

In preparing this syllabus, the authors carefully examined the French Upper Basic School Syllabus, expanded it and used it as the basis for developing new skills. Being a Notional Syllabus, the teaching of French is based on and organized by the functions that utterances can have and the phenomenal categories that such elements relate to.

The authors, have tried in this syllabus, to give the learner what is linguistically worthwhile. However, the teacher should treat this document as a mere guide and as such, he/she should not feel inhibited from delving into other sources of language teaching/learning because, there is no “methode passepartout”. What is being demanded of the teacher here, is simply creativity, flexibility and resourcefulness.

Finally, while designing this syllabus, the authors also took into consideration new concepts which have already been incorporated in other school syllabuses such as; HIV/AIDS, Democracy, Family and Population, Environment etc. In this view it has become necessary to request the teacher of French to work very closely with his/her colleagues in other departments when preparing his/her lessons. After all, language embraces all other disciplines.

GENERAL AIMS

1. At the end of 2 years of Basic Education and 3 years of High School, the learner will have been exposed to varying levels of linguistic and communicative aspects one is expected to acquire in order to widen, reinforce and strengthen one's ability to understand and express oneself clearly and distinctly in simple French.
2. The approach of new NOTIONS, practices and experiences the learner will be exposed to will in many respects assist one to acquire those necessary linguistic skills they need to know in order to meet their new challenges.
3. The exposure of the learner to different levels of French culture and civilisation will stimulate the desire to learn and subsequently enrich knowledge in the spoken and in the written language.
4. French as a modern language, is an important functional tool in modern society and will, as such, be seen as a basis for knowledge acquisition and cognitive development.
5. Learners should use the French language skills, values and knowledge, both as an art and a trade to promote entrepreneurship.

GENERAL OUTCOMES

The learner should:

1. practise a basic conversation in French.
2. express himself/herself (communicate) in a day to day conversation.
3. write narratively, expositionally, creatively, argumentatively or situationally to describe a given situation.
4. write in acceptable French personal and official letters.
5. identify and name main grammatical/linguistic components.
6. identify and interpret basic French cultural aspects.
